

We vaccinate because we're all in this together.

Vaccines Aren't Just for Kids ...

Many of us think of immunizations as a childhood rite of passage. However, our immunity from some of these childhood immunities vaccines wears off over time. Not only do we want to protect ourselves but also protect our loved ones from serious diseases.

Staying up to date on vaccinations is important for adults too.

Ask your physician which vaccines you need or visit www2a.cdc.gov/nip/adultimmsched to take this vaccine assessment quiz to find out which vaccines are recommended for you.
